

Citrus Spotlight: South African Regional Lemon Trends

Total volumes of export lemons have settled over the last three years after a strong growth phase since 2007. Sunday's River Valley with about 50% of the South African volume has shown a decline over the last two years.

As can be seen from the graph on the below (excluding Sunday's River Valley) the standout region in terms of growth has been Senwes. Western Cape and Nelspruit have also seen steady growth.
